Professor William Wagner is President of Salt & Light Global. He also holds the academic rank of Distinguished Professor Emeritus (Law & Constitutional Governance). A frequent speaker at world conferences, Professor Wagner has a special interest in the protection of free expression and good governance under the rule of law.

Topic:

“LEX REX or REX LEX” – The Proper Scope of Congressional, Presidential, Judicial Power - and the Constitutional Liberty Limiting its Exercise. In this presentation, Professor Wagner clearly and concisely explains the powers of the Congress, the President, and the Supreme Court under the United States Constitution.

He then gives a riveting analysis of various exercises of government power, analyzing how they either fall within or exceed the scope of the Constitution. Where government acts without constitutional authority, or infringes upon our unalienable liberties, the ominous implications for constitutional governance under the rule of law, has become frighteningly clear.

Professor Wagner then shows how the American people can use strategic citizen statesmanship to restore good governance under the rule of law.
